

Working together for student success

ASD Counselor & School Partnerships

About Frontier Tutoring & Our Services

Frontier Tutoring is one of the most respected local names in educational services. Founded by UAA students and based in Anchorage, our company's mission is enabling Alaska's ambitions through education—one student at a time. Our acclaimed educational services—powered by our shared values and unwavering commitment to student success—open doors for our students every day.

- SAT Prep: Our leading approach, leading instructors, and leading results make Frontier Tutoring Anchorage's leader in SAT prep. Choose our flagship SAT Preparation Class for comprehensive content and strategy coverage plus our score improvement guarantee, or go with one of our SAT Individual Prep programs for more targeted instruction.
- ACT Prep: We offer ACT Individual Prep options for every need level, including an ACT/SAT bridge course for students who have already completed one of our SAT prep programs.
- Academic Tutoring: We provide academic tutoring for math, science, English, and study skills at the K-12 and college levels. We are differentiated from other providers because of our one-on-one sessions, the opportunity for each student to work consistently with a single Tutoring Specialist, and our unique Frontier Advantage approach to developing talent and building relationships with our students.
- College Admissions Consulting: We provide value-added insight and expertise to empower students as they engage in pre-application planning, identify colleges of best fit, complete application deliverables, and apply for financial aid and scholarships. We serve as a trusted advisor and work collaboratively with students, parents, and school-based counselors to maximize student success.

Counselor & High School Partnership Models - Anchorage School District

Four ways to work together for student success

1. Spread the Word: Information Sharing

Let us help you inform your students about the educational services we offer. We can deliver brochures and literature for display at your office, provide recurring updated content for your newsletter or email distributions (e.g., upcoming SAT Preparation Class dates), and participate in relevant school events. We are always open to other opportunities at your suggestion.

2. Start Them Strong: Free Events and Resources

We are happy to share our expertise by providing free events and resources for your students including:

- Administering practice SATs under timed conditions and providing detailed score reports
- Facilitating free workshops for students to learn more about the SAT/ACT, receive an overview of college admissions process as a whole, or explore a specific component of the college admissions process in-depth

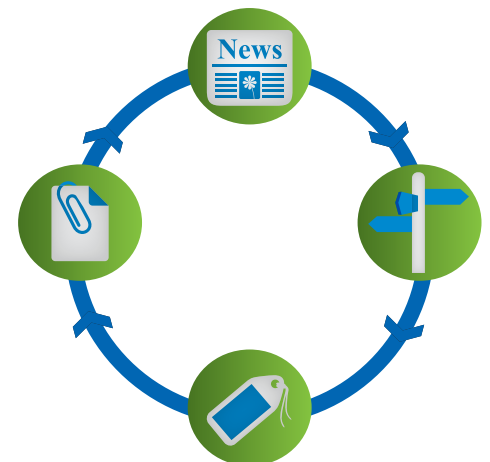

3. Share the Savings: Counselor's Office/School Discount Codes

Student/parent discount codes for Frontier Tutoring services, available only from your office, help families get an even better deal on their education investment, while simultaneously reinforcing your office's status as a critical resource for student success.

4. Send Them Back: Reverse Information Sharing

We know we're not the only ones with information to share. We are happy to post school and counselor bulletins in our office. We can even target your communication to your desired audience by formally distributing your message to students of your school when they enroll in one of our programs—a practice that can increase student visits and engagement with your office.

A Virtuous Cycle for Student Success

Any of our partnership models can be effective on a standalone basis. Even better, we believe combining all four models can result in a virtuous cycle in which students are driven to more actively engage with school-based and external resources that combine to make a meaningful difference in their success.

Contact us today to start a conversation. A win-win strategic partnership awaits.
